Based on what? If I send an ID in MCW with a 100 Hz tone, I have sent the ID, whether or not someone can hear it...

I'm not being pedantic, either: when you have literally hundreds of repeaters linked together, having each one of them ID their links every 10 minutes can be a major pain.

BTW, my reading of those same rules seems to indicate that MCW IDs aren't legal, either...

Why does everybody WHINE WHINE WHINE about the code??? Just do it and quit WHINING! Don't be so lazy! Code separates the ham operators from the CBers! Cut the crap and just do it!
